

THE MOTHERS' BALL

The Mothers' Ball is an annual celebration of the power of mother, in support of African NGO mothers2mothers (m2m).

This year it will be taking place on Wednesday 20 November 2024 at V&A South Kensington.

The Mothers' Ball centres the rich diversity, creativity, and excellence of the African continent, whilst shining a critical spotlight on the power of mother —because m2m's work to improve health outcomes for families across sub-Saharan Africa has been powered by an extraordinary network of female community health workers, known as 'Mentor Mothers', who have brought health and hope to some of the most marginalised and underserved communities on the continent, for more than two decades. The night will celebrate not only their impact, which has transformed lives and communities, but the influence of all types of mother figures.

The 2024 Mothers' Ball will bring together over 300 guests, who will step into a night that transcends all expectations and is infused with m2m's identity as an African NGO. Guests will be treated to a delicious menu designed by an up-and-coming female African chef from The Future Plate, and can expect phenomenal performances, auction prizes, and the chance to hear about m2m's work directly from one of the m2m Mentor Mothers.

Previous guests at m2m Galas have included Sir Elton John CBE, Salma Hayek-Pinault, Naomi Campbell, m2m Ambassador Sabrina Elba and Idris Elba, Jefferson Hack, Rosie Huntington-Whiteley, Yinka Ilori, Pixie Lott, Sienna Miller, Emma Thynn-Weymouth, and Ayda Field Williams to name a few. Captivating past performers have included m2m Patron Annie Lennox, Paloma Faith, Florence Welch of Florence and the Machine, Grace Carter, and after-party DJ sets by Cuppy.

OUR PARTNERS

m2m is supported through the investment and partnership of an array of like-minded brands and platforms. We know that we cannot achieve our ambition alone; we can only create change and support African women and families to thrive by creating opportunities for and with partners to use their resources and platforms.

Our growing network of innovative partners includes:

Partner with us to catalyse the conversation and help drive a movement with the power to transform millions of lives.
